ORDER DRAFT REVIEW OF ALL FARM WORKERS

Those Not Producing Their Share To Face Deferment Cancellation.

By The Associated Press
WASHINGTON, Feb. 17.—Draft review today was ordered to review immediately the cases of 1-1000 deferred farm workers not contributing their share of production in the light of increased crop goals for 1944.

Selective service announced today that it is not expected to continue to defer a farm worker unless he produces "by his own personal and direct efforts" at least "one war unit" a year. Heretofore registrants have been considered for deferment if they produced eight or more "war units" annually by the agriculture department as a measure of agricultural activity.

No Estimate On Number.
There was no estimate how many farmers the new policy would throw into the armed forces. But selective service left no doubt it was taking drastic action.

May Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, selective service director, declined at a news conference to estimate how many farm workers might be drafted under the new policy.

"We don't have the means of making even an intelligent guess," he said.

Asked whether the new regulations would slow drafting of fathers outside of agricultural work, Hershey replied:

"It would be easy to say this would ease the situation because it will increase the pool of available men. But we're down to the place where we've got to get a few here and a few there. The demands are so great that I wouldn't even want to make an estimate of a minute's difference in induction of fathers."

He reported that between 60,000 and 70,000 pre-war fathers were inducted in January, the largest number in any one month. This brought the total number of fathers drafted since such inductions began Oct. 1 to between 100,000 and 110,000 as of Feb. 1.

Local boards will first go through the list of registrants in class 2-C, in sequence of order numbers. There are more than 1,000,000 non-fathers deferred in agriculture, most of them in 2-C, the classification for men deferred solely because of farm work.

Those in this class who continue to qualify for deferment under the new regulations will be reclassified in 2-C for six months or less, and then their cases will be reopened again.

SUBSIDY BILL VETO EXPECTED

Congress Predicts President Will Turn Down Measure Barring Payments.

By The Associated Press
WASHINGTON, Feb. 17.—Congress will toss the anti-subsidy bill to the White House today, and then wait for it to bounce back.

Administration leaders said President Roosevelt is certain to veto this legislation which strikes at what he considers the heart of his wartime economic stabilization program. And they voiced confidence the veto will be sustained.

On the other hand, Senator Bankhead (D-Ala.) and Rep. Wolcott (R-Mich.), anti-subsidy critics, said they believed they had a good chance of overriding a veto.

Chester Bowles, price administrator, contends elimination of consumer food subsidies would break the line against inflation, resulting in an immediate 7 percent rise in food costs. Subsidies have been used to reduce prices of butter by five cents a pound, depress meat prices as much as three or four cents a pound and to hold down other retail food prices.

Subsidy opponents contend the public has plenty of cash to pay higher prices for food, and some farm groups argue such increases would compensate the farmer for larger production costs and encourage production.

Involved in the fight over subsidies is the life of the Commodity Credit Corporation (CCC), a government agency supporting farm prices, which expires at midnight tonight. Steps were being taken on Capitol Hill, however, to preserve this agency, irrespective of the outcome of the subsidy fight.

COUNTY NEAR TOP IN E BOND SALE

Just a Fraction of One Per Cent Under Quota.

Marion county's Fourth War Loan drive today was on the verge of being a complete success.

Yesterday's E bond sales amounted to $13,627.50 and pushed the total to $813,971.25 or 99.36 percent of the $819,000 goal. One good shove will push it over the top, and drive leaders were confident that today's sales.

NAZIS BOLSTER STAND IN RED DRIVE ON PSKOV

Germans Stiffen Resistance to Soviet Drive on City from Two Directions.

By The Associated Press
MOSCOW, Feb. 17.—The Red army met increased resistance as it drove upon the great communications hub of Pskov from two directions today, but northwest of the city, where Lake Peipus joins Lake Pskov, Soviet troops who captured the town of Samolva, developed a new thrust to the Pskov-Riga trunk railway.

Samolva is on the eastern shore of the Lake Peipus narrows, which are less than a mile wide in some places. Any push across here, followed by a drive to the south, would land the Russians along the railway and highway to Riga and would mean a march of only 25 miles.

This newest thrust to Pskov is the most dangerous confronting the city, anchor of the German defense system in that area.

Germans Counterattack.
The army newspaper Red Star said the Germans were counter-attacking violently south and southeast of Gdov in the Lake Peipus region, where the Russians are 30 miles from Pskov.

On the twin drive south and southwest from Luga, the Red army met hard going as it pressed down both sides of the Leningrad-Pskov railway. Red Star said the Nazis were blowing up all railway and road bridges in the sector and were building tree barricades across the trunk highway, which runs in a southwesterly direction between Luga and Pskov.

The Russians, however, are going off the highway to cut around fortified villages and then seizing German communications in the rear.

In the upper corner of the Dnieper bend the Red army subdivided field Marshal Fritz von Manstein's heavy tank thrust north of Zhenigorodka yesterday and recaptured two important towns, Yablonsk and Taraschka, respectively 10 and 22 miles southeast of Belya Tserkov.

Strikes Another Place.
Defeated here, Von Manstein launched a new counter-blow southwest of Zhenigorodka seeking to relieve the encircled 10 German divisions near Korsun.

Dispatches said the trapped Nazis were making desperate efforts to get out of the narrowing pocket with their remaining tanks. All such attempts so far have been repulsed. Thousands of prisoners have been taken, dispatches said.

A dispatch from the Cherkassy sector to the newspaper Pravda said the condition of the roads, which forced the Russians to carry all ammunition, food and supplies to their advanced units, had prevented extermination of the 10 trapped German divisions before this.

On the most southern reaches of the Dnieper river Red army forces are massed on the river's eastern bank for an attack on Kherson. A dispatch to the newspaper Izvestia said today:

"Soon the dark night over Kherson will end. A new Soviet day will break over the city. Our troops can see the city from the left bank."

War Summary U. S. BOMBERS HIT HEART OF JAP OUTPOSTS

Liberators Strike Deep in Carolines, Only 410 Miles from Truk.

By The Associated Press
Flying American bombers, blazing a trail into the heart of Japan's island outposts, have broadened operations against enemy bases atwar, the strongly guarded approaches to the Philippines and the Japanese mainland.

In one raid aimed at Kavieng, New Ireland, allied fliers continued the systematic reduction of Japanese positions in the Bismarck Archipelago, southwestern sentry for war-won Japanese territory in the Pacific.

But the first aerial assault on a major Japanese base, announced yesterday, marked a significant extension of American bombing missions into the mandated Caroline islands between the Marshalls and the Philippines.

Big Liberators probably flew a 2,000-mile round trip from the Gilberts last Monday to smash at the largest of the Carolines, only 410 miles east of the Japanese stronghold at Truk.

Fighters Sent Up.
The Japanese sent up no fighter planes to oppose pounding of their important administrative center and the Navy commander made no mention of anti-aircraft fire at Pohnape.

In the central Pacific, Army and Navy bombers hit two enemy-held atolls in the Marshall Monday and Tuesday.

Allied planes met intense attack bursts in a low-level sweep over Kavieng Tuesday. Eight of the raiders were shot down, but 15 crew members were rescued through the heroic efforts of Lt. (JG) Nathan G. Gordon, Marine, Ark., who landed his flying boat in the lee of enemy shore fire to pick up the men.

General MacArthur's communiqué reported that the town of Kavieng was left a "mass of flames and smoke" by the 65-ton bombing which also destroyed a 3,000-ton enemy cargo ship, three coastal vessels and several smaller craft.

While other allied bombers pounded enemy positions at Jacquinot bay, on the southeast coast, and Talaue and Cape Hoskins, on the north central sector of New Britain, American ground forces cleared the Borgen bay. Capt. Menzies led his troops in the invasion of the 800-mile long island.

Positions Consolidated.
U. S. and New Zealand troops have consolidated their positions on the Green Islands, 150 miles east of Rabaul, MacArthur announced. "The little coral bases occupied Monday and Tuesday to cut off supply traffic for an estimated 22,000 Japanese in the northern Solomons."

On the biggest land front of the Pacific war, Indian troops fought off Japanese attempts to encircle allied forces in the Mayu mountains of southwest Burma. The Indians held to their position commanding the Ngakyedauk pass, main communications link between the allied army and its bases in India.

The New Delhi communiqué said Japanese attempting to cross the west bank of the Chindwin river to the north were driven back. American-trained Chinese forces continued their push across northern Burma.

FINNISH BORDERS UNDER SCRUTINY. With reports of peace negotiations already under way between Russia and Finnish representatives in Sweden, the Finland-Russia border is expected to come under close scrutiny before any settlement can be made. Secretary Confident Allies Can Keep Grip on Anzio Beachhead.

By The Associated Press
WASHINGTON, Feb. 17.—Secretary of War Stimson spoke confidently of the allied position at Anzio today as dispatches from headquarters in Italy reported a fresh and fierce Nazi attempt to break up our beachhead south of Rome.

That beachhead, Stimson said, his press conference, has been firmly established with American and British forces holding superiority of striking power in tanks, artillery and aircraft and prepared to use present positions as a springboard for further advances.

Assessing there had been "unwarranted pessimism" in some news dispatches and discussions of the Anzio operation Stimson said:

"The situation in Italy now is (Turn to ANZIO, Page 9)

Rex Kilbourn, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Rex Kilbourn of Concord avenue, also a senior at Harding High school, and a member of the basketball team.

FIERCE BATTLE LAUNCHED IN NORTH SECTION

British and American Defenders Reported Holding Ground.

By The Associated Press
ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, NAPLES, Feb. 17.—A fierce battle has broken the hull on the beachhead south of Rome with the Germans launching heavy attacks in the northern sector, but all evidence today indicated the allied forces were holding against continuing enemy thrusts.

An announcement at headquarters said the Germans struck yesterday morning after a heavy artillery preparation. Both sides threw tanks into the heavy fighting.

The Americans and British were said to be firmly holding their positions in the face of tremendous pressure.

It was the second all-out German attempt to smash the allied beachhead.

Enemy aircraft swung into the battle in unusual force, some 120 sorties attacking objectives in the battle zone. But the allied air forces met the attack, shooting down nine attackers and blasting targets in the fighting area.

The beachhead fighting, far eclipsed that in strategic Cassino where, however, American forces still were bitterly contesting the Nazi stronghold. RAF and Australian Kittyhawks again bombed the ruins of the Monte Cassino monastery. American planes hit German positions elsewhere on Abbey hill.

Allied Planes Keep Flying.
Allied planes yesterday flew approximately 1,200 sorties. Enemy rail yards in Rome were hit for the second straight day and bombers attacked communications north of the Italian capital. Four allied planes were lost.

After the long and concentrated German artillery barrage yesterday morning, the first enemy shock troops struck in the first phases of the new beachhead attack with tanks in support. The allied armor immediately went into action against them.

The Germans kept coming in waves after wave throughout yesterday and last night.

The enemy attack came in the Carrocio (Aprilia) area, 10 miles due north of the port of Anzio. Various vantage points in that area have changed hands several times. Carrocio itself was in German hands at latest report.

The Germans opened the new offensive after apparently recovering from losses suffered in the first major effort to drive allied troops into the sea, but during the lull the allies also had built up new strength.

In a statement yesterday, Gen. Sir Harold Alexander, commander-in-chief of allied forces in Italy, declared the Americans and British were winning the second round of the bridgehead battle and ultimately would smash to Rome without assistance from the Cassino front.

"There is absolutely no Dunkerque here—there's no back for pessimistic rubbish," he told his troops three days ago.

On the lower Fifth army front allied artillery laid many shells during the day among German traffic on highway 6, leading out of Cassino and two miles westward allied troops engaged the enemy in a sharp clash.

While the Monte Cassino monastery has been reduced to ruins the Germans are holding out in a network of strong pillboxes around it and this has apparently prevented ground troops from occupying the crest of Abbey hill.

In Cassino itself the fighting was less intense than on previous days.

On the Eighth army front patrols were active, including those sent out by newly arrived Polish troops.

The attack on Rome, directed against the Tiburtina and Ostia railroad yards, succeeded high explosives into great numbers of freight cars, the majority of which were lost, with German supplies for the beachhead.

FEARS ATTITUDE TOWARD INDIVIDUAL

By The Associated Press
COLUMBUS, O., Feb. 17—The outcome of war is less important than the government's attitude toward the individual, James F. Lincoln, president of the Lincoln Electric Co. of Cleveland, declared last night before the fiftieth annual convention of the Ohio Hardware Association.

The prominent industrialist and outspoken critic of some federal government policies said: "The problem before us, I say to you in all seriousness, is of greater importance than the outcome of the war. The problem is what the attitude of the government toward the individual is to be."

If the government's position is dominant, Lincoln asserted, the individual "has been transformed into a machine and he is without the opportunity of government."

Lincoln assailed the government for its demand that $1,600,000, which federal officials said represented excess war profits, should be returned to the government by his company.

"Obviously, this situation must be eliminated," Lincoln said. "If you take away a worker's incentive, you eliminate the essentials of our greatness."

CANADA EYES NEW MARKETS

Ready To Develop Trade in Latin-America; Already Laying Plans.

By ROY ROY BUCKINGHAM
United Press Correspondent

MEXICO CITY—Canada, which has been playing an important role in Latin America, is now turning its eyes toward the South Pacific and the South Atlantic. A group of 16 British Canadian students recently arrived in Mexico for three months of study in the national university, and they will be followed by a larger group which is part of Canada's program for her postwar "penetration" plan.

Operating through eight trade commissions and three legations, scattered strategically in Central and South America, Canada is keeping her contacts warm and a token until the war is over and war facilities can be refocused for peacetime goods.

With legations already in Argentina, Brazil and Chile, Canada recently announced additional ones for Mexico, Cuba and Colombia. According to information here, the new legations have not been set up yet because there are no qualified Canadians available to run them. Men ordinarily qualified are in jobs "indispensable" to Canada's war effort.

Trade Commissions

The trade commissions, some of which are 50 years old, vanguard Canada's Latin-American campaign. Typical of them is the one in Mexico, headed by C. S. Bissett. Bissett's office is a "middle-man" between Mexican businessmen and Canadian buyers and sellers, and it also handles Canadian relations with the Mexican press.

According to Bissett, Mexico's exports to Canada have tripled in the last three years, although the flow of Canadian products south has remained static—around $5,000,000 worth of goods a year.

In 1943, Mexico's exports to Canada exceeded $5,000,000, which is the first time since the war that Canadian-Mexican trade has balanced in favor of Mexico. In 1941, Mexico received twice as much from Canada as she returned, and in 1942, about two-thirds.

The big items that go to Canada from Mexico are metal ores, and fresh fruits and vegetables. Mexico has partially replaced the West Indies as a source of "off-season" produce, said Bissett. Mexico also exports rice and peanuts, silverware and Mexican novelties.

Canada sends large quantities of newsprint and wood pulp to Mexico, as well as agricultural machinery and supplies. All Mexico-Canada shipments move by rail through the United States, which allocates freight space to the two countries.

Postwar Plans

"After the war," Bissett said, "Canada expects to be able to compete in any part of Latin America on full equality with any nation."

He said Canada had undergone "tremendous" industrial development, and will be able to manufacture for export a larger variety of goods than before the war.

He said Canada had built 300 10,000-ton freighters in the last four years, and will have built 400 by war's end. Many of the ships are lend-leased, but will return to Canadian possession with the armistice. They will form the nucleus for a shipping fleet to carry Canadian products in every part of the world. He emphasized that postwar shipping in Canada will be in private hands, although the government will continue to subsidize shipping, probably through mail contracts.

Piles Are Never 'Mild'

DANGER IN NEGLECT

No one should ever think of piles (hemorrhoids) as a "mild" disorder.

Although they may seem a "mild" ailment, especially when not giving pain or inconvenience, piles are in fact tumor formations without tendency to heal themselves. Instead, they are likely, if neglected, to keep increasing in size, involving more of the rectal area.

Even a so-called "mild" case may be expected to undermine one's health, by inviting, predisposing to or aggravating other ailments, such as indigestion, biliousness, stomach trouble, constipation, headaches, pain in the back and down the legs, secondary anemia with its rundown tired feeling, and general nervous irritability.

If, therefore, you are distressed by what you have regarded as only a "mild" case of piles, do not, by any means, allow that to be a reason for neglecting them.

Removal of piles is the only permanent relief—written guarantee. My method produces little or no discomfort, requires no anesthesia nor the use of knife or drugs, and seldom is the patient required to lose any time from work or other duties.

There is no undue exposure, and you will find that the dieting with which the examination is conducted will quickly make you lose any feeling of self-consciousness.

Why not call and learn of this method? The examination is free.

TRAIN NOW PULPIT OF WAR PREACHER

Texan Works at Shipyard, Preaches on Way Home.

By The United Press

NEW YORK — A Baptist preacher who left his congregation for a war job has built a new church in the Texas railway yards of the Houston Shipbuilding Corp.

The Rev. Clarence Gadberry, 27, a booted and sombered man, preached here today for the first time in his new church, which carries him and his fellow workers from Houston to fighting fronts. "We began holding the meetings for the purpose of offering prayers for our boys on the way home," Gadberry said. "and just branched out from there."

"Most of the workers were on the job on Sundays and didn't have time to go to church. Some of them came from rural communities and were kind of backward about going to church in the city."

Since most of Houston's ministers have accepted invitations to conduct the rolling services, however, "they realized that the ministers were human beings, just like shipyard workers," Gadberry said.

Swing shift workers have appointed L. Bunker, a boilermaker, as assistant pastor in adopting the day shift's commuting service, the company said.

Crap-shooters in adjoining cafes didn't disturb the worshippers even before the advent of a snuff patrol to eliminate gambling.

Eskimo Wedding Rush Explained

By The United Press

BETHEL, Alaska—When Eskimo couples in the lower Kuskokum river villages recently began trekking upriver to this backwoods town to be married, and also expressed vehement preference for the double ring ceremony, the river missionaries congratulated themselves. It seemed to them their teachings were beginning to have a powerful effect.

But Maj. Marvin Marston, Seattle, Wash., organizer of the Alaska Territorial Guard among the Eskimos, turned up another reason for the Eskimos' sudden interest in orthodox matrimony.

Someone, the Eskimos would not say who, had told them that if the Japs landed on the Alaskan coast, only those persons wearing wedding rings would be spared. Now that the unusual rumor has been spread, Bethel's marriage mill has taken a slump.

Sinatra To Be on CBS

Radio Theater Monday
By The Associated Press
NEW YORK, Feb. 17 — When Frank Sinatra goes into the CBS radio theater Monday night for his first appearance therein as a singing actor, Crosby also will be in the cast. But this Crosby's name is Bob, not Bing although he also is a weekly broadcaster on NBC.
The play is a version of "Wake Up and Live," the story of a shy crooner; Sinatra takes that role in the lead.

Orson Welles, who recently returned to Hollywood, after recovering from an illness in New York, makes his first appearance in some time on CBS Saturday night as guest of Groucho Marx. Added to tonight's March of Time, on SBC at 9:30 are Undersecretary of the Navy James V. Forrestal and Vice Admiral John S. McCain, just back from the Marshall Islands area.

From where I sit...

by Joe Marsh

There's a lot of talk going around nowadays about post-war planning...folks passing resolutions...statemen, holding conferences...governments making promises to each other.

But as Bert Childers says: "What good is all this drawing up of plans unless each one of us decides to make his corner of the world a better place to live in?"

From where I sit, Bert's put the problem in a nutshell. Governments can pass all the resolutions and make all the treaties they can think of—and it's still up to the people themselves to see to it that the world is ruled by tolerance and understanding.

Unless we make up our minds to respect the other fellow's rights and liberties—whether it's the right to enjoy a glass of beer occasionally or the right to vote according to our conscience—all our post-war planning won't be worth the paper that it's printed on.

Intensification

ONE probability of the war climax to be reached early this year which only now is beginning to emerge from the communiques is the gradual intensification of effort on all fronts preceding the invasion of western Europe.

As the land and naval and air campaigns in the Pacific move relentlessly forward, as the drive northward from the Mediterranean gains momentum on land and water and in the air, and as the Russian push increases with the disintegration of German resistance, there conceivably might come a time when the landing of troops in western Europe would represent an anti-climax, relative to the great events elsewhere.

There is even the possibility that the climax which is expected may never materialize in recognizable form. The invasion of western Europe might take place as a series of events scattered over a period of time too long to constitute a climax on a single day, or even a single week. It might come as the final punch frequently comes in a fist fight—not as a distinct blow but as the final blow in a series of events that turn the tables and remove all doubt of the outcome.

When it is considered how much is happening now, compared with what was happening one year ago, six months ago, three months ago, even one month ago—how much additional pressure is being applied to the enemy—the fighting climax of 1944 seems to be already a reality.

Naval Muscle

PARALLEL announcements in London and Washington of a tight blockade on shipping in the Bay of Biscay make the best war news of the month.

The prestige of both governments stands behind such a policy. It could be risked only in the belief that the policy can be put into effect and kept in effect. And the belief could come only from conviction that the combined naval and air strength of the two governments is sufficient to do the job.

This means that the anti-submarine campaign has gone even further than had previously been admitted. The Bay of Biscay contains such formerly powerful submarine bases as St. Nazaire, it borders northern Spain and Vichy, France, which gives Gen. Franco and the Vichy-ites something to think about. It serves notice on Germany, its satellites and its sympathizers that the Allies have the battle of the Atlantic under control.

Occupational Disability

NO ONE can blame selective service board chairmen in the Washington, D. C., area for wondering how men in their jurisdiction can be classified psychoneurotic in the draft, yet continue to hold down important government jobs.

The chairmen should understand, however, that Washington bears for and wide the reputation of being the national nerve center for organized chaos. Elsewhere in the country it is common for returning travelers to the capital to report that it added them just to visit there. There is a widespread impression that those who survive the battle of Washington without lapsing into bureaucratic shock will be just as deserving of medals as the heroes of the battle fronts; they are enduring a terrible ordeal.

If here and there a draft-eligible male is discovered on examination to be living in a state of civilian shock while holding down a federal job, it is not surprising. Congressmen will do well to think twice before they rush in with allegations and investigations. For all they know, they might be as out of order as Gen. Patton was judged to be when he mistook a plain case of battle fatigue for malingering, in a now famous incident.

Ask Some Taxpayers

THE house ways and means committee says it is going to simplify income tax returns. It will be taken at its word. If the forms being worked over a year from now are not easier to follow than the ones now in the people's hands, there will be universal and angry disappointment.

We suggest respectfully to the house ways and means committee and to the senate finance committee, which also will have something to say about the matter, that both of them could profit by asking ordinary taxpayers to pass judgment on the results of their work.

It is further suggested that when the law has been reduced to a tax form and an instruction sheet by the internal revenue department that these should be examined by perhaps as many as 50 ordinary taxpayers, to get the benefit of their point of view.

One of the maddening things about the returns now being filed is the obscure language in which many instructions are successfully concealed. If the language had been made to pass an understandability test before it was foisted on the public, most of it would have been eliminated.

Not all the confusion about income tax returns is implicit in the income tax laws. A lot of it was put there by the confusion in the minds of the devious, legalistic authors who wrote instructions which may have been clear to them but certainly haven't been clear to the people who paid their salaries.

Today and Tomorrow

Need Seen for Averting Bitterness in G.O.P.
Presidential Primary Campaign.

By WALTER LIPPMANN

THOUGH it is no doubt too bad that our elections must be held in a year when the war is reaching its climax, the only thing to do is to face the situation and make the best of it.

The paramount question is whether the Republican party can provide an administration fit to conclude the war, to make the settlements, and to demolish.

If this question could be answered affirmatively, and with conviction and confidence, there would be no good reason why Mr. Roosevelt should even accept a fourth nomination. He is having very great difficulty carrying out his third term.

This is not because he is the wicked man his enemies say he is, nor because he is not a great figure in the world, whose place in history is now secure. It is because he and his cabinet and so many of his lieutenants have used, and no longer have the constructive energy and the sense of a mandate and a mission which the times demand.

Mr. Roosevelt has failed to do the one indispensable thing which would have maintained the necessary vigor in his very long administration. He has failed to remove the top men whose energies are spent, and to promote to their rightful place of responsibility the men at the second and third levels who have, in fact, enabled him to wage war as successfully as he has waged it.

Paul Mallon, whose Washington column, "News Behind the News," ordinarily is published five days each week on the editorial page of The Star, has been ordered by his physician to take a brief rest. When he returns, his articles will again appear in The Star.

Heavy Strains
The strains and the tensions resulting from this blockade of ability can be appreciated only by those who have seen the administration closely and more or less at first hand. But they explain far more exactly than the routine partisan pettifoggery why the country has to face the serious risks of changing the administration in the midst of a war.

The risk of a change would however, be exorbitant if it meant entrusting power in this supreme crisis of the world's history to men who quite evidently do not understand the crisis. Now it is increasingly clear, I think, that the Republicans who are capable of forming an administration which is a genuine alternative to a fourth Roosevelt administration are so hopelessly in Wendell Willkie's and in Mr. Dewey's following. If there is to be a change, that is where the country has to look for something to change to.

It follows that if the Willkie and Dewey forces become irreconcilably opposed the situation will be very serious indeed. If Willkie won over Dewey, rather than with Dewey, he would face the election with a divided party, and if elected he would govern with a party which could be relied upon not much longer than the patronage held out.

If Dewey won over Willkie by becoming the candidate of Willkie's enemies, he would be a prisoner of those who had won to him. His title to the leadership of the party would be clouded because he would have gotten in by riding roughshod over the convictions and sensibilities of so many of the best of the Republicans.

Deep Responsibility
The wisest men in their two camps have a high duty and a deep responsibility during the next three months. They must not fail in the excitement of the contest to keep contact and through it to develop an understanding by which they can eventually unite these forces.

Surely it must be evident to Gov. Dewey and his enlightened supporters that they need the cordial support of the Willkie following. What could be more absurd than the argument that Willkie is not a good enough Republican because so many who have voted for Roosevelt like him and believe in him? Outside of a fanatic asylum that would be considered one of Willkie's strongest political assets.

If the Roosevelt voters who like Willkie are made to feel that the Republicans do not want them to come over, and are determined to dash all their hopes and beliefs, then they may have no choice but to vote for a fourth term.

As a matter of fact, a sound appreciation of Gov. Dewey's position would cause him and his managers to welcome the campaign that Willkie is now making. He is educating the Republican machines and arousing the Republican electorate to the issues which any Republican, if he hopes to be a successful president, must deal with.

Strongest Card
The strongest card which Gov. Dewey holds in his hand is the widespread feeling that if his principles are right, he might well be the more effective man of the two. Therefore, the more he becomes associated with the leading ideas which Willkie voices, the better can he play his hand.

Willkie and his supporters can never afford to get into the position where they either rule the party or ruin it. Their proper doubt about Gov. Dewey is whether he understands the war well enough, and whether he can be relied upon in a tight place to do the right rather than the temporarily expedient thing. This doubt feeds upon the fact that Gov. Dewey is such a cool calculator.

But the only practical course they can take in order to insure against this doubt is to build up Willkie's strength within the party, and if it is insufficient to nominate him, then to employ his great influence and power in the formation of a Dewey administration. Not every great American has been president, and if Dewey's weakness is that he is too cool a calculator, Willkie's is that he is just a shade too eager.

The worst mistakes will be avoided if both men and their supporters never for a moment forget that the great question is not whether the one or the other is nominated, nor whether the Republicans win the election, but whether out of this election there emerges an administration that can carry through very difficult times.

The Long and The Short of It

Your Income Tax Return

LONG FORM IS USUALLY BETTER IF:

Deductions are more than six per cent of income.
Your child was born between July 1-Dec. 15, '43.
Your marriage was between July 1-Dec. 15, '43.
Your child became 18 during first half of '43.
Wife or dependent died during first half of '43.

This is one of a series of Associated Press articles prepared to assist in the preparation of income tax returns.

WASHINGTON — A taxpayer should find out not only which income tax form he is permitted to use but also which form it may be advantageous in the way of tax savings for him to use.

One is a long form, numbered 1040, which any taxpayer may use. The other is a short form, numbered 1040A, which only certain taxpayers may use. You may use a short form if you meet all of these requirements:

1. You are a citizen or a resident of the United States.

2. Your total income in 1943 was not more than $3,000.

3. That income came only from salary, wages, dividends, interest and annuities.

4. Your wife or husband does not use the long form.

The short form is easier to fill out, but many persons who are eligible to use it may find that the long form will reduce the amount of tax owed. Others will save tax money by using the short form.

On the short form you take credit for dependents, but you do not list deductions for taxes, contributions, interest, large medical

Hazards of Home

There's "no place like home" but it's not safe.

Last year, home accidents resulted in 31,300 deaths and 4,650,000 injuries. Of the injuries, 130,000 involved some degree of permanent disability.

Of the deaths, 75,750 were due to falls. 5,800 resulted from burns and explosions and 1,450 were the result of careless use of firearms.

Falls accounted for more than half the home accidents. Safety experts claim they did so because home owners lack the necessary the Gulf of Finland less than 200 miles from Leningrad. It was founded in 1550 as a Finnish rival to Tallinn, Estonian port and capital directly across the gulf. In 1710 only 1,800 persons lived there.

About a century later the Russians took Helsinki for the third time in its history and made it the capital of the quasi-independent Grand Duchy of Finland. The city's growth dates from then, the population increasing at an average of 1,000 a year in the next 90 years. Finn patriots drove the Russians out in 1918.

During the Russian era, Engel, a German-born architect, supervised construction of buildings which still give Helsinki its architectural character. Engel's Suurkirko church, Helsinki university buildings, and state council building, grouped around Suurtori Square, are still often regarded as the north's most harmonious architecture.

Twenty Years Ago.

It was Sunday, Feb. 17, 1924. Rev. M. L. Buckley, Marion's new mayor, in an address at the First Church of the Brethren said there was no likelihood of "blue law" enforcement in Marion. He said such enforcement "would result in the election two years from now of a mayor who would not enforce the law. This would result in the return of gamblers, brothels, bootleggers, Sunday picture shows and would place Marion in a worse state of affairs."

Dr. Mathew Spinka of Dayton, professor of church history at Central Theological seminary, was speaker at the First Reformed church here. He said, "Christianity in the past failed to take advantage of its opportunity to convert the world. Fortunately, Christianity has awakened to its great task and opportunity, which is not to disseminate denominational differences but to permeate the world with the spirit of Christ."

He was asked if he approved a theater order, based on assertions that front line dispatches were over-optimistic, forbidding direct radio transmission of news stories from the beachhead and requiring instead that they be sent by courier to Naples for censoring.

"My only comment on that," the secretary replied, "is in accord with my usual policy: General Wilson, commanding in the Mediterranean theater, is in the best possible position to judge whether factors such as you refer to affect the operations in this theater either favorably or adversely."

Discussing the Italian front generally, Simson said the Germans had thrown in perhaps as many as 17 divisions there.

Total American casualties in Italy since the landings at Salerno are 4,158 killed, 18,154 wounded and 6,429 missing.

The secretary also made a report on the "relatively light" American casualties resulting from these successful landings at Arcole and Cape Gloucester on New Britain island and at Saldor, New Guinea, in the Pacific—463 killed, 1,156 wounded, 12 missing.

Pravda Criticizes

Exchange of Prisoners

By The Associated Press

MOSCOW, Feb. 17—An implied criticism of Britain's exchange of war prisoners with Germany was contained in a story published today in Pravda, Communist party organ. The Russians never have exchanged prisoners with the Germans.

The story was an account by a German senior corporal, Gerhard Machens, who said he sailed from Oran in North Africa last October in a Red Cross exchange and then went to the Russian front after a vacation of only four weeks.

British and German prisoner exchanges are supposed to have included only those ill and too seriously wounded to take part in combat again and non-combat categories such as medical corpsmen.

DIES REPORTS ON PEACE NOW

Committee Charges Group Encourage Acts Tending Toward Treason.

By The Associated Press
WASHINGTON, Feb. 17 — The Dies committee turned over to the justice department today a report it said showed that the "Peace Now" movement has engaged in "acts whose nature is clearly seditious and which tend toward the encouragement of treason."

Investigating un-American activities, the committee reported on the "Peace Now" movement, which it said was organized last year to work for a negotiated peace. It identified as George W. Hartman, chairman, Dorothy Hutchinson, associate editor, Clarence E. Bank, treasurer, and Benson Simon, secretary.

Army 'Gun Doctors' Ramble Over Italy To Keep 'Em Firing

By The United Press

KANSAS CITY, Mo.—"We repair anything" may be the boast of many repair shops, but to the Army Ordnance troops it means more than hanging out a shingle and waiting for damaged equipment to come to them. These Ordnance boys go after their jobs.

It is nothing for Ordnance troops with Gen. Mark Clark's Fifth Army in Italy to travel hundreds of miles to fix a flat. Maj. A. H. Gardner Jr., commanding officer of the Lake City Ordnance plant, said recently as he explained how the "gun doctors" go out and get their business.

According to an Ordnance observer who served in the North African, Sicilian and Italian campaigns, Ordnance combat technicians operate mobile "truck hospitals," plentifully supplied with spare parts, on every west coast Italian road from Salerno to Cassino. Ordnance truck repairmen fix flat tires, install new condensers, carburetors, fuel pumps and distributor points under fire and make a wide variety of spot repairs that keep the huge convoys rolling to the front line troops.

"Supply lines are the vital arteries of combat regiments," Major Gardner said. "Cut them and our front line troops are forced to retreat."

A group of Ordnance gun doctors, consisting of an Ordnance officer and several enlisted technicians, contact the front line infantry and artillery units regularly on a pre-arranged schedule. When all damaged equipment is repaired, the Ordnance group moves on to other units. Ordnance troops may be called to the front any time of the day or night to deliver spare parts or to do emergency repair work, Major Gardner said.

According to military authorities, the Italian campaign is a battle for roads. Mountains are scaled by the artillery and infantry in order to command roads in the valleys. San Pietro was smashed because it blocked the road to Rome, authorities explained. Whether a road happens to be in a forward area constantly under fire or in the rear, Ordnance troops are always on the job when things go wrong with guns and automotive equipment, Major Gardner said.

A new testing machine has reduced the rejection of anti-aircraft shell fuses from 20 to one-tenth of 1 per cent, virtually eliminating "dud" shells.

THREATEN ACTRESS. Katharine Grayson, beautiful film actress, received threatening notes and phone calls from a man demanding she obtain certain military secrets for him from her husband, Army Capt. John Price. The accused is John March 21. Captain Price, an actor, is known as John Shelton.

Bond-Selling Waiter Tops 3 Million Mark

NEW YORK—Louis G. Schwartz, waiter in a Sixth Avenue deli restaurant, has sold almost $3,000,000 worth of war bonds in a one-man campaign. Schwartz was launched by AWWA customers to whom he served sandwiches right after Pearl Harbor.

Recently, Schwartz heard that his son-in-law, Lt. Thomas Berchig was a prisoner in Germany after 40 months in a B-47 Thunderbolt. He hurried out to the Farmingdale, N. Y., Republic Aviation Corp. plant, took a good look at the Thunderbolt and announced that he had set himself a new quota of $2,500,000 to put 33 more of them in the air.

Schwartz's waiter racket is associated with the AWWA and every known military organization in recognition of his bond-selling. Recently, he added the only male membership badge of the AWWA and he has just become a WAC.

Soldiers Refuse To Post Girl Friends' Addresses

FORT SHERIDAN, Ill.—The Personal Pin-Up Unit Contest was about to be a flop, because none of the post's soldiers had entered a picture of his best girl.

A private's complaint explained the hesitancy. "A rule says we have to put our home's name and address on the photo, and a lot of guys around here are just ticked at that information."

BOOKS FROM U. S. POPULAR

Text of American Works by British Publishers Increases.

DUDLEY ANN HARMON

United Press Correspondent

London—British publishers cope with a 60 per cent paper, are publishing 20 more American books now than in 1939.

They are frankly worried at the time the past few years have seen in transatlantic publishing. Demand here for American books is so great the trade keeps up with it.

Example: Phyllis Bentley, whose novels have appeared in America, has a full-time job with the Ministry of Information. She hasn't written a novel since the war started.

Sinclair Lewis' latest book, "Gideon Planish," which got only fair reviews in America, recently came out over here and is going great guns.

Ernest Hemingway's British publishers say they're getting out another edition of "For Whom the Bell Tolls" as there's still a steady demand.

The blackout is responsible for the current boom in wartime reading here. People have less choice of diversions. They're reading anything they can get their hands on, including seed catalogues.

The Mohammedan religion forbids the eating of pork.

W. A. R. or correspondents are writing more vividly than ours, an official of the British Publishers Association told the United Press.

He couldn't recall any British statesman who has written a book of the caliber of "One World" or "Mission to Moscow" since the late Sir Neville Henderson's "Failure of a Mission."

London publishers lay the current success of American authors to two factors.

First, they say, we've learned to write.

Second, American publishers won't touch a book unless it's going to be a best-seller. This is contrary to British procedure, which, even in wartime, publishes the gentle country parson's essays when have limited demand.

War-time Britain offers no novelist or playwright of the stature of H. G. Wells, George Bernard Shaw, Barrie, Bennett or Galsworthy. Nobody has a clear explanation of this, unless it is that most novelists here are doing war work.

Example: Phyllis Bentley, whose novels have appeared in America, has a full-time job with the Ministry of Information. She hasn't written a novel since the war started.

TWO U. S. SERGEANTS NAB NARCOTICS RING

By International News Service

VINELAND, N. J.—Sergeants Alexander S. Fish of Vineland, and Sergeant Lawrence D. Starr of New York, combined on a dangerous African assignment to capture nine members of a narcotic ring and recover 11,688 tubes of morphine stolen from the U. S. Army Medical Corps.

A strange wartime adventure of intrigue, mystery and peril in a Moroccan city underworld was revealed in a copy of the "Stars and Stripes," which 23-year-old Fish sent to his father in Vineland.

Assigned to Get Ring.

The Provost Marshall General's division of criminal investigation assigned Fish and Starr to break up a syndicate seeking to peddle morphine to U. S. troops.

"Assuming the roles of well-behaved international dope syndicate members," the Stars and Stripes said, "they entertained lavishly and flashed thick bankrolls. They let it be known they were interested in illicit drugs."

Played With Death.

"Any misstep would have meant death—but the sergeants acted their dangerous roles perfectly and began negotiations for the sale of morphine."

The soldiers, living in the underworld for weeks and out of touch with the criminal investigation division, faced an unexpected problem they did not have enough money with them to meet the syndicate's price.

Fish and Starr overcame this by offering $1,000 in marked bills as a deposit. The gang accepted

Fruits and Salads Build Resistance

By BETSY NEWMAN
As I've warned before don't neglect your fruit and your salads in your menus during the cold weather. The citrus fruits—grapefruit, lemon, oranges, limes—are all fine to help keep your resistance to colds and flu higher, so are the various greens and such foods as alligator pear—Cavendish—green peppers, celery, etc. May be you'd like a few salad dressing recipes, as a mayonnaise or dressing can make or mar an otherwise good salad combination.

Galion and Shelby Shooting for Victory Over Presidents

Galion's Orangemen and the Shelby Whippers, both several weeks ago denied a front-line position in the contention for the North Central Ohio conference crown, are bent on accomplishing something worthy of league-wide note before the 1943-44 finish wire is reached next Friday night.

Marion Harding's high-riding Presidents probably are the chief target for the Galionites, tied for fourth place in the N.C.O. and Shelby, floundering in the cellar. An upset win over the Prexies, only a half game out of first place, would be quite a feather in the currently near-bare bonnet of either Galion or Shelby.

The Orangemen will get the first crack at the Marion colossus tomorrow night when they come here for a game at Thomas Edison Junior High school scheduled to start at 8 o'clock. Shelby will allow no rest for Dewey Bohyer's locals, as the Whippers are slated to invade the Edison court Saturday night in a contest postponed from last Friday night.

There will be a Junior Varsity preliminary between the Harding and Galion under-studies tomorrow night. Starting time is 7 o'clock. There will be no preliminary to the Harding-Shelby game Saturday night, much as the Whippers do not carry a day-Vees squad on out-of-town trips.

Harding Is Favored
The Prexies are favored over both the Orangemen piloted by Bob Sheffer, long-duty basketball reinsmen, and the Whippers, mentored by affable Larry Swackhammer. The Bohyer-coached boys of Marion defeated both Galion and Shelby in first round games, taking the Whippers, 43 to 31, on Jan. 7, and following up a week later with a 31 to 25 triumph over the Orangemen.

Of the two rivals, Galion is expected to give the Presidents the most trouble, since the Orange-

County Tournament Darkhorses Keep on Watch for Chance To Spring Surprise

By CHARLES ELLIOTT

In practically all athletic events, involving several teams, there are those outfits that on the surface don't appear necessary to pack the nucleus of a team to lead in the championship's seat and are accordingly classified as "also rans" before play even gets started. Sometimes these teams humiliate the experts by driving to the title.

This year's Marion county tournament is no exception. There are other teams in the tourney running besides the top flight this season—Galion, Morristown, LaRue and Pleasant. To be exact, there are seven other quintets eagerly awaiting the opening tourney gun scheduled to ring out tonight with four games—two at Agosta and two at Claridon.

From Kirkpatrick, fifth place county team on down to Meeker, residing in the basement with no last week, Waldo belted Meeker, 35 to 32, Tuesday night.

Another inspection tour of the county league might be helpful to all prospective forecasters so let's go:

Kirkpatrick—At times during the season just completed, Kirkpatrick looked like a world-beater deluxe but most of the time didn't, with the unfortunate result being fifth place in the league. Kirk, coached by W. E. Harrington, scored 267 points to her opponent's 225 in league play. Sparkplug for Kirkpatrick was Toby Kelly, who was the only boy on the 1943-44 squad with any previous varsity experience. The rest of Harrington's cagers were out-and-out "green hands." One of the main factors contributing to the general inexperience of this season's Kirk team was the fact that for the first year in the history of the school there were four high school grades. Because there were only three grades, Kirk was not a member of the league for several years prior to this season. In the past students who would have been wins and 11 defeats, there are potential dope-upsetters and crown-wreckers for the seeded squads. Excluding the top four teams, Kirkpatrick is the only county school that completed its 1943-44 league schedule on the good side of the 500 percentage mark. Kirk won six games and dropped five decisions. This record, combined with the team's occasionally great scoring prowess, stamps Kirkpatrick as the unofficial tournament darkhorse.

Outside Chance
Caledonia and Agosta, who finished the regular campaign in a dead heat for sixth place with five wins and six setbacks each, are accorded outside chances of capturing the tourney championship trophy. Waldo, eighth slot club isn't far behind. Martel, which finished ninth and Green Camp, which found herself in tenth position when the season won-and-lost accounting was ended, fall short of meriting the darkhorse title, their only hope lying in either a sudden letdown of the league "higher up" teams or an overnight transformation of their own personnel.

The county season is still not officially closed since Prospect and Green Camp failed to play-off their tilt cancelled last Friday night because of the snow. In the other game moved back from

SWEDE HAGBERG NEW Ties for First Place in Both Divisions Mark Gra-Y League

By The Associated Press

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Feb. 17.—The United States Naval Academy announced today the appointment of Commander Oscar Emil (Swede) Hagberg as head football coach, thus confirming reports which have been widely circulated.

Hagberg, a submarine skipper who recently returned from active duty in the Pacific, was a versatile Navy grid performer 15 years ago, and a former assistant Middle football coach.

In a statement from the superintendent's office, the Academy announced that the erstwhile full-back end and tackle had been assigned to the foreign languages department "with additional duty in the department of physical training as head football coach."

Hagberg, who succeeds Capt. John E. Wheelock, was visiting his home town of Follansbee, W. Va., when the announcement came today, but others on the coaching staff indicated he would disclose spring football training plans soon after his return about Feb. 25.

It was expected that he would retain the Navy's single wing system, with its occasional "T" formation variations, since a fairly sizeable number of Wheelock's 1943 squad will return next fall. In nine games the year Navy lost only to Notre Dame for one of the best seasons in the Midshipmen's football history.

Hagberg will have plenty of material, especially backs.

Pitfalls of Love

By ADELE GARRISON

"No," Dicky said with equal emphasis. "Not so good. Lillian brought up almost to the breaking point now. Your sudden appearance might ruin the string you are here to snap. I—"

"Thanks to you, Harry," I said as I rose to go with Dicky. "I'm not as terrified for you as she might have been. That was a good idea you told her about going on an errand for my father."

"I wanted it to be," he said, and then Dicky and I were crossing to Lillian's table.

"Name is Mitchell," I mumbled to Dicky, and then I was addressing Lillian effectively.

"My dear Mrs. Mitchell," I said loudly enough for both Milner and the gangsters at Marion's table to hear me. "How charming to meet you here! May I present an old friend of mine, Mr. Handley?"

Both Lillian and Dicky murmured the conventional greetings, and then Dicky gave her an elaborate invitation to join us at this table. Lillian accepted, with a little demurring, and as she rose, I said in her ear:

"Brace yourself, darling! Harry is over at that table!"

She stiffened slightly, but gave no other sign of having heard me, and in another two seconds the four of us were sitting in the booth, and an obsequious waiter was clearing away the chess board and men.

"We won't order too heavily," Dicky said. "For I doubt whether we'll get a chance to eat more than the first course."

"I couldn't taste that," Lillian said. "I have my food and drink right here."

I knew that her hand was clasped in that of her husband, as mine was clinging to Dicky's, and I echoed her plaint.

"I can only pretend to eat," I said. "But, tell me, Harry, while we were talking, did you see any activity at Milner's table?"

"Yes, I did," he said promptly. "He called a waiter, and wrote something on the dinner menu. The fellow promptly went kitchenward, but it's dollars to doughnuts he'll come back to Marion's table, and slip the gangsters their orders to get Marion away from the restaurant as soon as possible. He's probably told them to forget all about Lil."

"Of course he's realized that we probably know Marion is here, where she is, and are planning her rescue. But what he doesn't know is that the Chief is planning to scoop him and Redfield up in the net, too, so he's bending all his energies to getting Marion out from under our noses."

"That will take some doing," Dicky said, and Harry, with a keen look at my face, put a question.

"I think you have an idea, Lady Fair. Come on, give us try some subterfuge," I said. "While the men remain at the table, the women may take Marion to the powder room, pretending that they are coming back. But the place is no doubt honey-combed with their aids back there. It will be easy to over-power her, take her to their waiting car, and at a signal from the back the two gangsters can make their way out the front door and join them."

"Okay," Harry said. "I'll bet you have the correct dope. Now, what's the antidote for the poison?"

"We must be on the watch," I said. "And the instant Marion rises, I will raise my voice in a call of 'A moil Marie!'" That is a call of the old code Marion and Mary used to have in Marion's childhood.

"Marion has said that she will run to me when there is danger. I would suggest that you, Harry, get in touch with the guards outside, have some of them outside this side door, and that you and Lillian be prepared to pass her through this booth and on outside the door and over to the apartment opposite, while Dicky and I hold the fort here. This plan of course, is based on the contingency of my father's not appearing before they try to spirit Marion away."

"A very wonderful plan," Harry commented, and Lillian nodded assent. But I won't need to go outside. There are ample guards out there to deal with any emergency. And just pipe Marion's table! A waiter—no, the one Milner summoned, not too far for that—is spilling something into the elder gangster's cauliflower ear."

"Then get ready to rush her through this booth to the outside. Lillian, you mustn't take time out for a single kiss until you have her safe in that other apartment!"

"I won't," she promised fervently, and I flexed my muscles to be ready for whatever lay before me.

The waiter left Marion's table, and the older gangster bent over the table to the women and said something to them which made Marion stiffen against her chair.

"I don't," she said quite loudly, then seemed to slump literally and mentally. "Oh, all right," she said dully, and I guessed that she was trying to lull their watchfulness by her docility.

The three women stood up, and before I rose for I did not wish the gangsters to see me getting up just yet—I sent a clarion call from my throat.

"A moil Marie!"

YOUR HEALTH

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

Civilian First-Aid

ALL THE doctors we have left are busy. Civilian practice is crowded and rushed. Therefore let's not put any extra burden on the doctor by calling him unnecessarily.

How are you going to tell whether you really need a doctor or not? The following hints may help.

Temperature — There is one sure-fire differentiating instrument for separating the sheep from the goats of symptoms and that is the thermometer. In less busy days it may not be advisable to have it around the house, or somebody will get the thermometer habit and create a neurosis. But nowadays it has become a necessity. Learn to use it and read it accurately. It is made in the shape of a triangle, so that looking down on it directly at the apex of the triangle the column of mercury is magnified so that it can be read. The column of mercury is actually very small, hardly as wide as a fine hair, so this magnification becomes necessary.

You may be feeling perfectly rotten. Or your husband may come home complaining of feeling perfectly rotten. Or better still, your wife may come home from the riveting works, and say she has an awful headache and thinks she is going to die. Give her the acid test. Take the temperature.
